FIRM PROFILE
“...WIDELY ACCEPTED AS THE CORPORATE FIRM OF CHOICE IN NIGERIA AND THE GO-TO FIRM FOR A LARGE PERCENTAGE OF INTERNATIONAL OUTFITS LOOKING FOR LOCAL COUNSEL IN THE COUNTRY”

The International Financial Law Review (IFLR 1000)
A Culture of Excellence

Founded in 1983, Udo Udoma & Belo-Osagie is a multi-specialisation full service corporate and commercial law firm with offices in Nigeria’s key commercial centres and an affiliate in Ghana. The firm’s corporate practice is supported by a dedicated litigation and alternative dispute resolution team and, also, by a company secretarial department, Alsec Nominees Limited, which provides a full range of company secretarial services.

We are privileged to work with diverse local and international clients to create and implement innovative practical solutions that facilitate business in Nigeria and beyond. When required, we are well-placed to work with a select network of leading African and international law firms with whom we enjoy established, non-exclusive relationships.

Our core philosophy is that legal advice should be of the highest possible standard, accessible, commercially oriented, and consistently sound on principle. As a firm, we have developed a reputation for advising on a wide range of transactions including those that are complex, unusual or new to the market in which our clients operate, for generating innovative and practical legal solutions, and for effectively resolving disputes—within a relatively short space of time. We actively seek to refine our existing skills and to develop fresh ones. As such, we consistently acquire new expertise across our practice areas, which enables us to respond quickly and effectively to the evolution and rapid changes of the economies and markets in which we and our clients operate. This approach enables us to set charges that reflect our knowledge and experience, rather than learning costs.

Our goal is to remain the preferred firm for facilitating corporate and commercial transactions and resolving disputes in the rapidly changing world of Nigerian and African business.

“...LEGAL ADVICE SHOULD BE OF THE HIGHEST POSSIBLE STANDARD, ACCESSIBLE, COMMERCIALLY-ORIENTED AND CONSISTENTLY SOUND ON PRINCIPLE...”

TEAM PARTNERS NOTED FOR BRINGING “...CLEAR SIGHTEDNESS TO COMPLEX
ISSUES...” AND FOR “...VERSATILE THINKING...”

The firm’s Aviation practice is known for providing creative, solution-focused and clear-cut advice and representation to local and international airlines, operators, regulators and key players in the aviation sector on commercial transactions and in aviation litigation and claims.

Our clients include local and international airlines, aircraft and helicopter operators, and leasing companies and financiers. We offer expert advice on the acquisitions of aircraft, helicopters and equipment, leasing, financing and security arrangements, registration and de-registration of aircraft, engine swaps, related issues and representations of airlines and aircraft operators in relation to litigation and claims, regulatory and administrative law issues. Our aviation team also routinely advises on regulatory compliance, liability and commercial matters.

The Aviation team’s many successes include representing Milestone Aviation, Bristow
Helicopters, CIT Finance LLC, LCIH
Hobart Seven Limited, Wells Fargo and other clients on the registration, de-registration, acquisition, leases - both wet and dry - of aircraft and the registration of security interests in aircraft. Our successes in aviation disputes include representing Virgin Atlantic Airways in a labour dispute at the National Industrial Court and advised as well as represented Virgin Atlantic Airways at a hearing by a Select Committee of the House of Representatives on Aviation and Labour. The team also defended South African Airways in a claim arising from cargo and passenger liability; represented Air Atlanta in claims against a Nigerian Airline for recovery of over US$9 million debt arising from aircraft wet lease agreements, and defended McDonnel Douglas Corporation in a suit for negligence and claims for compensation arising from an air accident in Saudi Arabia.

On panels and committees’ representations, we successfully defended British Airways in an Appeal Panel set up by the Nigerian Civil Aviation Authority regarding the sanctions imposed on British Airways for alleged collusion, unfair, deceptive and/or unfair methods of competition by British Airways and Virgin Atlantic Airways.

To further establish our firm as an industry leader in the aviation sector, we are strategically increasing our focus on emerging issues on airlines alliances and joint ventures, competition and antitrust law, as well as representing clients on committees involved in the formulation of legislative policies for the aviation industry.

BANKING & FINANCE

“...ESTEEMED PRACTICE THAT IS PARTICULARLY NOTED FOR ITS STRENGTH IN ACQUISITION FINANCE, SECURED AND UNSECURED FACILITIES AND SYNDICATED LOANS...”

“...HIGHLY REPUTED GROUP WITH WIDE-RANGING EXPERTISE IN THE FINANCIAL SECTOR. CONSISTENTLY ENGAGED IN HIGH-VALUE MATTERS...”

Chambers Global Guide

The firm’s Banking and Finance practice is a key area of specialisation for which it has consistently earned some of its highest commendations from independent ranking publications, including Chambers Global, IFLR 1000, Legal 500 and Who’s Who legal. The team is particularly noted for its strength in acquisition finance, secured and unsecured facilities, syndicated loans, and project finance.

The team developed its initial international financing experience when it advised on various issues arising out of the refinancing of Nigeria’s international commercial debt in the 1980s. It has also advised on issues arising out of the refinancing of debt owed by various Nigerian commercial banks to international creditors. Further, we have a wealth of experience in preparing and reviewing financing documentation and vetting foreign law-governed contracts to evaluate their efficacy and validity under Nigerian law, or within the context of Nigerian laws and regulations.

Our Banking and Finance clients range from local and international banks, development finance institutions and other financial institutions, to arrangers, facility agents, borrowers and sponsors. We offer expert advice on incorporation, establishment, setting up representative offices, regulatory capital, foreign exchange and other general regulatory compliance issues, including Central Bank of Nigeria regulations and the operations of financial institutions in the sector.

Our Banking and Finance team also routinely advises on corporate and commercial lending, project and structured finance transactions, syndicated financing, asset-based lending, debt capital markets, real estate financing, and hotel financing. Additionally, we handle Islamic banking and finance, global depository receipts, and leasing. We have structured transactions relating to debt restructuring, debt-to-equity conversions, swaps, other derivative transactions and other forms of acquisition finance.

Our Capital Markets team services clients including issuers (sovereign, sub-sovereign and corporates), financial and other advisors, underwriters, custodians, and trustees, which operate across a wide spectrum of sectors, including financial services, real estate, oil and gas (upstream and downstream), manufacturing, and fast-moving consumer goods.

The Capital Markets team advises on local debt and equity capital market transactions, securities offerings, derivatives transactions, the establishment and listing of investment funds such as mutual funds and real estate investment trusts (REITs), and transactional and regulatory mandates. The team also advises and assists on bond issuances in the local and international capital markets by Nigerian corporates, various Nigerian State Governments and the Federal Government of Nigeria and was involved in Nigeria’s first Eurobond transaction. Furthermore, it facilitates Islamic finance transactions.

The Capital Markets team is also actively involved in regulatory advocacy and in ongoing legislative and regulatory reviews of key laws and regulations governing Nigeria’s capital markets. The team’s engagement ensures continuing familiarity with the workings and practical concerns driving the market and its regulators, which helps to build and strengthen relationships with regulators and to facilitate the informed, compliant and efficient completion of highly complex transactions in alignment with client objectives.

The firm’s Founding Partner (now Of Counsel), Senator Udoma, served as chairman of the board of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) between 2008 and 2012. Other members of the Capital markets team have served and continue to serve in a range of capacities on various advisory committees set up by the SEC and other key regulators, including the Nigerian Capital Markets Association.

COMPETITION

"...HIGHLY PROFESSIONAL AND KNOWLEDGEABLE. THEY DESCRIBE COMPLEX LEGAL ISSUES IN A SIMPLE WAY, ENSURING THEIR CLIENTS ARE CARRIED THROUGH.

Legal 500

Our competition team expertly navigates the rapidly evolving Nigerian competition landscape to achieve our clients’ goals in addressing all aspects of competition risk. Clients around the world regularly request advice from our competition specialists. The firm’s competition practice is known for providing clear advice which makes it possible for our clients to structure complex cross-border and local transactions that comply with the Nigerian competition law regime.

The competition team advises on various aspects of competition law including:

- merger control,
- anti-competitive agreements,
- abuse of a dominant position,
- price fixing,
- dawn raids and
- cartel conduct.

We are in frequent direct contact with the Federal Competition and Consumer Protection Commission (FCCPC), Nigeria’s apex competition regulator. We also assist our clients to obtain approvals (including negative clearance) of the FCCPC and routinely engage in anti-trust and pre-merger consultations. We also advise on sector-specific competition issues such as the requirement to obtain multiple clearances depending on the target industry; and act as liaison between international and foreign clients and regulators such as the Department of Petroleum Resources, the Central Bank of Nigeria, the Nigerian Communications Commission, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Nigerian Civil Aviation Authority, the National Pension Commission, and the National Insurance Commission.

We advise on the competition, monopoly and regulatory aspects of mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures and corporate restructurings. Where there is a risk of violation, we have the capacity to provide advice on leniency regimes, remedies and mitigating factors applicable to penalties.

The competition team provides advice to a wide range of clients operating within various sectors of the Nigerian economy including financial services, oil and gas (upstream and downstream), health management, engineering services, real estate and property development, power and energy, food and beverage, capital markets, insurance, pensions, aviation, manufacturing, fast-moving consumer goods, health and fitness, data services, telecommunications, training services and security services.

FINTECH

“...THE FIRM IS IMMERSED IN THE INDUSTRY, EXHIBITING...DEEP EXPERTISE IN THE MARKET. THEY ARE VALUED PARTNERS TO COMPANIES OPERATING MULTINATIONALLY... DUE TO THEIR STRONG RELATIONSHIPS WITH INTERNATIONAL FIRMS...”

CHAMBERS, FINTECH GUIDE 2019

Our FinTech practice enjoys the benefits of our corporate dynamism, rich banking background, wide-ranging private equity experience and exciting telecommunications, media and technology practice. Our investment advisory service in this space dates as far back as 2007, when we advised a leading private equity house in its investment in one of the pioneering payment processors in Nigeria.

The FinTech team at our firm is conversant with the various innovations and regulations in the ever-evolving financial services sector, and actively provides advice to clients in this space. Our team advises on crowdfunding projects, mobile lending services, payments transfer solutions, financial products with mobile or web-based applications, data privacy and data processing by FinTech entities, regulation of payments platforms and non-conventional payments systems, licensing of money transfer operators, cryptocurrencies, Initial Coin Offerings, and so on.

In the cryptocurrency space, we advise various local and foreign institutions on the regulatory framework for cryptocurrencies, as well as on the use of bitcoins, Litecoin, onecoin and other forms of virtual currencies. On the licensing front, we advise and assist clients in obtaining licences from regulators such as the Central bank of Nigeria, Money Lenders Registry and the Nigerian Communications Commission. We have also advised investors, including leading private equity houses on the acquisition of interest in FinTech companies, leveraging our extensive knowledge of the private equity sector on these deals. Our clients include international and local banks, payment companies, card networks, private equity houses, mobile lenders, technology companies, and crowdfunding platforms.

The Firm is ranked as a Tier 1 firm and our partners are similarly highly ranked in the 2018 Chambers and Partners FinTech Guide. The Firm is also a member of the FinTech Association of Nigeria and has representations on the SEC FinTech Roadmap Committee of the Nigerian Capital Market.
INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

"...AN OUTSTANDING FIRM WITH A FANTASTIC REPUTATION..."

IFLR1000

The firm has a robust Intellectual Property practice group, with years of experience gained from providing a full complement of services to clients across various sectors. The group is result-oriented and regularly advises on registration of trademarks, patents, and designs, as well as providing copyright advisory in order to maximise the commercial benefits of our clients’ IP rights.

With a clientele that cuts across business owners, entrepreneurs, large corporations, foundations, Intellectual Property rights aggregators, trust companies, research companies, pharmaceutical companies, and media and entertainment companies, the Intellectual Property team is adept at identifying and advising on the IP aspects of corporate and commercial transactions such as mergers and acquisitions, syndication, licensing, and private equity transactions. The Intellectual Property team is reputed for its record in the enforcement of IP rights in Nigeria, as it is currently involved in some of the most significant and delicate IP rights cases in courts. The team has advised on a multi-million-dollar patent infringement case involving the two largest switching companies in Nigeria over the patent utilised in deploying ATMs across the country. The team is also representing one of Nigeria’s foremost actors in an action to enforce his image rights against a large pan-African online media company, just as the team is defending a foremost brewery in a multi-million-dollar copyright infringement case. The group also recently successfully defended one of Nigeria’s foremost mobile phone operators in a multi-million-dollar copyright infringement claim.

As a member firm of the Intellectual Property Law Association of Nigeria, the firm is heavily involved in the efforts to modernise and update Nigeria’s Intellectual Property legislation to reflect global trends and best practices. We are also members of the International Trademark Association and the Pharmaceutical Trade Group PTMG.

MINING & METALS

"...AN IMPRESSIVE RANGE OF EXPERTISE...."

Who’s Who Legal

The Nigerian mining sector is one of the emerging markets in the western region of the Sub-Sahara. Our mining team’s experience dates back to 1996 when we advised on the development of a gold mine in Iperindo-Ijesha, Osun State situated in the south western region of Nigeria. The project, which was the first of many, has evolved into a flagship project with an indicative reserve of approximately 4 million metric tonnes of high-grade gold. We currently represent a company listed on the Australian Stock Exchange (ASX:KFE) with significant interest in an iron ore concession in Nigeria. Located in Kogi State of Nigeria, our client is a holder of seventeen exploration licenses and the operator of the Agbaja Cast Steel project which has an indicative mineral reserve of approximately 466 million tonnes. With the help of our team our client has successfully concluded the exploratory stages of the Agbaja project and is set to commence the development stage. Our team consists of experts who are able to navigate the evolving regulatory and legal framework that govern the Nigerian mining industry, bringing to bear our expertise in power, finance, tax and policy advocacy. Members of our firm were part of a committee of legal experts established by the Federal Government of Nigeria to review the National Policy on Solid Minerals Development. In addition to providing advisory support to our clients in this sector, as thought leaders in the sector we contribute to resources such as the Mining in Africa Legal Database, an online product, designed to help investors, financiers and developers evaluate African mining projects.
The Oil and Gas team at Udo Udoma & Belo-Osagie developed its initial experience by acting as legal advisers in the negotiations leading to the formation of Nigeria LNG Limited, which operated the Nigeria liquefied natural gas project under the government of the former President of Nigeria, Shehu Shagari. Subsequently, our founder, Senator Udoma Udoma, served as a member of the LNG Working Committee, providing legal support and reviewing and advising on the legal issues encountered in raising financing for the LNG project. Since then, the team has represented various multinational and Nigerian oil firms in negotiating oil and gas investment transactions.

The team advises on matters such as the regulatory framework for oil and gas in Nigeria; the processes and procedures for obtaining authorisations from the Department of Petroleum Resources, the Nigeria Content Development and Monitoring Board, and the Nigerian Export Processing Zones; licensing procedures under the bidding rounds; joint ventures, investments, technical service and management relationships with local companies; the tax regime applicable to oil and gas transactions in Nigeria; foreign investment in companies operating within the Marginal Oil Fields Programme; and the negotiation, drafting and resolution of disputes under petroleum industry contracts.

In addition, the team engages in regulatory advocacy work and assists strategic investors in the emerging natural gas and energy sectors with structuring their investments and formalising their arrangements with local partners.

ENERGY

Our Energy team has an impressive range of expertise gained from years of providing bespoke legal advice across the Nigerian power sector value chain. Our extensive knowledge of the industry and strong contacts at various levels enables us to provide commercially relevant advice, making us the go-to team for projects and investments in the power sector.

We have advised on various aspects of the overhaul and privatisation of the Nigerian power sector, and regularly advise our clients on matters such as the regulatory framework for the development, design, financing, ownership and construction of power projects in Nigeria; the processes and procedures for obtaining licences and authorisations from the Nigerian Electricity Regulatory Commission; and the viability of certain proposed power financing arrangements under Nigerian law. The team also advises on the negotiation and drafting of industry contracts like Power Purchase Agreements, Put and Call Option Agreements, Engineering, Procurement and Construction Contracts, Gas Supply and Transportation Agreements, Long Term Service Agreements, and Operation and Maintenance Contracts.

We advised the defunct National Electric Power Authority (NEPA) in connection with re-negotiating its power purchase agreement with Enron, and subsequently represented NEPA in its negotiations with prospective independent power producers. The team worked with NEPA for a period of four years and, in the course of that time, advised in connection with a power purchase agreement with Agip and Shell. Since then, the team has advised on numerous independent power projects such as the construction and financing of Aba IPP, the Azura Edo Gas-Fired Power Plant in Edo State and the Oma Power 500 MW Independent Gas Power Project in Abia State. We also continue to provide support to the National Electricity Regulatory Commission in the drafting of its regulations.

The team provides advice and dispute resolution representation to multinational and indigenous companies in connection with their day-to-day operations, projects and transactions. We also routinely advise local and multinational pioneers and would-be sector participants in connection with their various investments in the power sector, including generation, distribution, and gas and pipeline projects. Furthermore, we advise corporates offering captive power generation and other power projects in connection with their projects in Nigeria.

INFRASTRUCTURE AND PROJECTS

Our Infrastructure and Project Finance team has built a reputation as one of the best in the industry due to our unique experience and capability which evolves from regularly working on some of the most important, innovative and complex projects in Nigeria. Our project finance experience covers the broad spectrum of structuring, documenting and negotiating national, international and multinational projects, including projects facilitated by public-private partnerships. We have advised and continue to advise clients with respect to the development and financing of projects in diverse sectors such as:

- Infrastructure, including gas pipelines and effluent treatment plants;
- Transportation, including airports, seaports, roads and railways;
- Power and energy, including solar power generation and distribution and mining;
- Manufacturing;
- Oil and gas; and
- Telecommunications;

We have also advised on structures and devices such as limited recourse project financings, offshore escrow accounts and dedicated accounts, risk mitigation techniques in project financing and revenue streams from product sales. In addition, the team has advised on the effects of the negative pledge and other restrictive covenants that arise from existing Nigerian sovereign obligations. Recent assignments have included advising a wholly-owned subsidiary of an international oil and gas company in connection with a foreign currency denominated facility for refinancing existing debt, constructing a gas processing facility, and the development and construction of various pipeline projects in Nigeria.

The team has earned its reputation by providing expert advice to local and international banks, as well as project developers, in relation to credit enhancements like the World Bank Partial Risk Guarantee programme for gas and power in Nigeria. We have been consistently ranked as one of the top-tier law firms in power, infrastructure, oil and gas projects and project finance by the International Financial Law Review and the Chambers Global Guide and have been recognised and commended for our regulatory practice and ability to interface with public entities.

PRIVATE EQUITY

“...UDO UDOMA & BELO-OSAGIE HAS A STELLAR REPUTATION FOR PRIVATE EQUITY...”

The Lawyer’s Africa Elite Private Equity Report

“...THE QUALITY OF WORK FROM UDO UDOMA HAS ALWAYS BEEN FIRST CLASS. THE PARTNERS ARE EXTREMELY COMPETENT AND CUSTOMER SERVICE IS GREAT.”

- IFLR 1000

The firm’s Private Equity team has developed significant expertise in private equity fund structuring and investment transactions, dating back to our work with some of the domestic and foreign pioneers in this sector in Nigeria during the 1990s. The members of the team bring a range of experience from their commercial, financing, tax, corporate advisory and restructuring practice areas to bear in their work for private equity clients.

In addition to providing full transactional support, the team advises on issues including the formation and establishment of funds; the development of tax-efficient investment structures; the tax liability of funds under Nigerian law; the corporate, regulatory and licensing issues relevant to funds investing and operating in Nigeria or dealing with Nigerians; the representation of investors in the purchase and sales of portfolio assets; and the provision of representation and support in dispute resolution involving the interests of fund managers in Nigeria.

Our clients include top-tier global, regional and local private equity funds and fund managers, institutional investors, financial organisations, international development institutions, banks, SMS fund managers, consortia of all of the above, and companies seeking private equity or venture capital.

The firm is an inaugural member of the Private Equity and Venture Capital Association of Nigeria (PEVCA) and is represented on the legal and regulatory councils of the Emerging Markets Private Equity Association (EMPEA) and the African Venture Capital Association (AVCA). The team has also written extensively on regulatory issues, investments, and the regulation of private equity for publications such as the IFLR, the Asset Management Law Review and the Emerging Markets Private Equity Association (EMPEA) newsletter, among others.

PRO BONO: UUBO IN THE COMMUNITY

“...GREAT REGULATORY PRACTICE... VERY STRONG ON PUBLIC SECTOR WORK AND AT INTERFACING WITH PUBLIC ENTITIES...”

Chambers Global Guide

At Udo Udoma & Belo-Osagie, we believe that it is important to play a role in strengthening our community. To this end, we advise and support various non-governmental organisations (NGOs), charities, projects and development-oriented individuals whose activities have a positive social impact.

We are proud to have partnered with several such organisations, including Trust Law, the Thomson Reuters Foundation’s global pro bono legal programme; Sidley Austin, under the Sidley Emerging Enterprises Pro Bono Program; and Advocates for International Development (A4ID), a global charity that works in partnership with the world’s leading law firms to provide free access to legal advice for NGOs.

Through these partnerships, our firm has had the opportunity to provide quality legal services which assist organisations and social enterprises in achieving their social mission, for free. We are constantly taking on new projects, so we welcome opportunities where our services can be of maximum benefit and create meaningful social impact. NGOs and social enterprises that have benefitted from our pro bono practice include:

- The Montpelier Foundation
- Netri Private Foundation
- Kickstart International
- Malala Fund
- Creative Media Centre for Development
- West Africa Civil Society Institute
- Private Agencies Collaborating Together
- ActionAid Nigeria
- Malaria Consortium

REAL ESTATE

“... ALWAYS COMMERCIALY MINDED AND UNDERSTAND THE NEED TO GET THINGS ABSOLUTELY RIGHT...”

Chambers Global Guide

Since the firm’s establishment over 34 years ago, the real estate team has grown from providing standard drafting and negotiation support to advising its clients on real estate financing transactions, project finance, mortgage schemes and other property acquisition transactions.

This team has advised local and international clients in connection with land acquisition, foreign investment approvals, and the financing and construction of several real estate projects in Nigeria. Many of these projects required the firm to advise on the regulatory framework for development of the properties, procurement of the relevant approvals, establishment of the project companies as well as undertaking extensive due diligence to determine the ownership of the relevant properties.

Some of our experience in the hospitality sector includes advising promoters, developers and investors in connection with the construction and development of the Jabi Lake Mall in the FCT, which is the largest mall in Nigeria. The team is also involved in the refinancing, expansion, acquisition and development of existing projects including the Palms Mall, Ikeja City Mall, Ikoyi Hotels (now Southern Sun, Ikoyi) and various other proposed projects.

Our Tax team comprises corporate tax and international tax experts as well as a disputes resolution team.

With a strong focus on adding value to transactions related to our areas of specialisation, our tax team advises on diverse tax issues from the inception of a business through to its operational stages, from both a domestic and an international perspective.

We offer our local and foreign clients practical and robust tax advisory, structuring and planning services that are consistent with current international tax developments. We help clients identify potential risks and seek to proffer practical solutions, within the purview of applicable Nigerian laws, to mitigate them. The team has advised and continues to advise clients on a wide range of areas, including corporate structuring, foreign direct and portfolio investments, mergers and acquisitions, banking and finance, tax-efficient compensation packages, joint venture arrangements, the establishment of employee benefit schemes, energy, mining, oil and gas, project finance deals, and private equity fund establishment and investments. Our dispute resolution team has successfully negotiated settlements and provided litigation support to complement our corporate advisory services in this area of specialisation.

The team relies on its extensive knowledge of financial, commercial and tax laws, complemented by its cordial professional relationship with the various tax authorities and industry players, to deliver practicable advice and robust services to our clients.

TELECOMMUNICATIONS, MEDIA, TECHNOLOGY/ DATA PROTECTION

“...INSIGHTFUL AND INTUITIVE COUNSEL...”

Who's Who Legal

Udo Udoma & Belo-Osagie has a robust Telecommunications, Media and Technology (TMT) practice that has evolved with the liberalisation of the rapidly-expanding telecommunications sector. Our TMT partners played a strategic role in the technical team charged by the Federal Government of Nigeria with reviewing the new communications policy of 2001 and drafting the legislation that now governs the Telecommunications sector in the country.

The TMT team advises on regulatory and compliance issues, operational requirements and divestments, anti-trust and competition issues, outsourcing projects, cybersecurity and data protection, privacy issues, e-payment systems, and e-commerce. The TMT team has advised bidders involved in licensing auctions, and has provided services to several telecommunications operators, media investors, broadcast companies, TMT sector equipment and service suppliers, social network operations, telephone and electronics manufacturers, and music publishers. The team, where necessary, works with the financing, M & A and other commercial teams of the firm to structure transactions tailored for the Nigerian market.

Members of the TMT team have written extensively on telecommunications and media law and regulations. Some of the publications to which they have contributed include “Getting the Deal Through”, the International Comparative Legal Guide to Telecoms, Media and Internet Laws and Regulations, the International Law Office’s Telecommunications Newsletter and Lexology. Members of the team also collaborate with the Nigerian Communications Commission (NCC), the telecommunications sector regulator, to provide training to Nigerian court judges to update them on developments in the sector.
